

Lawrence Axelrod

Founder & Chairman

Lawrence Axelrod is founder and chairman of Axelrod Energy Projects. In addition to originating the firm's cargo brokerage and consulting businesses, Mr. Axelrod created and edited the monthly publication Fuel Oil & Feedstock Trader, before overseeing its sale in May 2017.

Prior to launching Axelrod Energy Projects in 2007, Mr. Axelrod developed and headed the international fuel oil practice at Poten & Partners. Earlier in his career, he was a staff petroleum economist with W.J. Levy Consultants and a staff reporter for Petroleum Intelligence Weekly.

He holds a PhD in political science from Columbia University, where his doctoral dissertation assessed the economic and political determinants of Saudi oil policy.
